

Chapter Three: Open Access

Table 3.1: Phrase which comes closest to describing your attitude toward open access movement

	It's a nice idea but I don't think that it will affect journal prices much.	It has not had much of an impact yet but it should eventually slow the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improve contract conditions.	It has already slowed the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improved contract conditions and there may be additional gains but nothing too dramatic.	We have already made significant progress and if we continue to grow the base of open access articles open access will eventually lead to significantly lower journal costs for libraries.
Entire Sample	29.55%	45.45%	13.64%	11.36%

Table 3.2: Phrase which comes closest to describing your attitude toward open access movement, broken out by U.S. and non-U.S. Libraries

Country	It's a nice idea but I don't think that it will affect journal prices much.	It has not had much of an impact yet but it should eventually slow the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improve contract conditions.	It has already slowed the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improved contract conditions and there may be additional gains but nothing too dramatic.	We have already made significant progress and if we continue to grow the base of open access articles open access will eventually lead to significantly lower journal costs for libraries.
U.S.	29.03%	41.94%	12.90%	16.13%
Non-U.S.	30.77%	53.85%	15.38%	0.00%

Table 3.3: Phrase which comes closest to describing your attitude toward open access movement, broken out by Academic and non-Academic Libraries

Academic or Non-Academic	It's a nice idea but I don't think that it will affect journal prices much.	It has not had much of an impact yet but it should eventually slow the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improve contract conditions.	It has already slowed the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improved contract conditions and there may be additional gains but nothing too dramatic.	We have already made significant progress and if we continue to grow the base of open access articles open access will eventually lead to significantly lower journal costs for libraries.
Academic	28.13%	50.00%	12.50%	9.38%
Non-Academic	33.33%	33.33%	16.67%	16.67%

Survey of Academic & Research Library Journal Purchasing Practices

Table 3.4: Phrase which comes closest to describing your attitude toward open access movement, broken out by Level of Annual Spending on Journals

Annual Spending on Journals (US$)	It's a nice idea but I don't think that it will affect journal prices much.	It has not had much of an impact yet but it should eventually slow the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improve contract conditions.	It has already slowed the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improved contract conditions and there may be additional gains but nothing too dramatic.	We have already made significant progress and if we continue to grow the base of open access articles open access will eventually lead to significantly lower journal costs for libraries.
Under $100,000	36.36%	45.45%	9.09%	9.09%
$100,000-$300,000	46.15%	46.15%	7.69%	0.00%
$300,000+-$1 million	20.00%	30.00%	20.00%	30.00%
$1 million & above	10.00%	60.00%	20.00%	10.00%

Table 3.5: Phrase which comes closest to describing your attitude toward open access movement, broken out by Type of Institution

Type of Academic Library	It's a nice idea but I don't think that it will affect journal prices much.	It has not had much of an impact yet but it should eventually slow the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improve contract conditions.	It has already slowed the growth of price increases for journals or modestly improved contract conditions and there may be additional gains but nothing too dramatic.	We have already made significant progress and if we continue to grow the base of open access articles open access will eventually lead to significantly lower journal costs for libraries.
Primarily a community college	0.00%	100.00%	0.00%	0.00%
Primarily a 4-year or M.A.-granting college	41.18%	47.06%	11.76%	0.00%
Ph.D.-granting college that is not a research university	20.00%	40.00%	0.00%	40.00%
Level 1 or Level 2 Carnegie Class research university	25.00%	41.67%	25.00%	8.33%
Small Hospital	22.22%	44.44%	11.11%	22.22%